What is Skyspace:

Skyspace is a unique experience and art installation designed by world-renowned artist James Turrell. Built according to Swedish traditions with materials from nearby surroundings, the installation is a lightshow via a circular opening in the ceiling that provides a unique focus where you can follow both the movement of the clouds as well as the play of colors in the sky. This color game starts about 30 minutes before sunset and lasts until the sun goes down. A restful and meditative slow-art experience that gives time for reflection and stillness. These contemplative and exciting installations are located in selected locations around the world and no two are alike. The installation in Ytterjärna is something that many people make pilgrimages from other countries to see. With heated benches and marble floors, visits are possible throughout the year regardless of the weather. This play of light can also be seen at sunrise and in this package you can therefore choose which of these two times of the day you want to experience this unique and meditative art-installation.
